Re: Help Map Pennsylvania's Birds!

Dear Pennsylvania Audubon Chapter Leaders and Friends,

Pennsylvania's Third Bird Atlas (PBA3) is a comprehensive effort to document the population status of our Commonwealth's birds — vital data that guide conservation priorities statewide. It is a five-year-long survey that will end February 2029. The project is a partnership between organizations like Hawk Mountain Sanctuary, the PA Game Commission, and the Pennsylvania Society for Ornithology. The Pennsylvania Audubon Council is a sponsoring organization of the Third Pennsylvania Bird Atlas Project (PAB3). Learn more about the Atlas Project at: https://www.pa.gov/agencies/pgc/wildlife/wildlife-viewing/birding/pa-bird-atlas.

The Council has been advised that funding is needed to complete a successful 2026 field season necessary to keep PBA3 on schedule. The project needs our help and financial support. The Pennsylvania Audubon Council is appealing to our chapters and friends to help PBA3 now and until more funding becomes available in 2027.

Our gift now can make a real difference! All donations to support the Atlas effort and are fully tax-deductible. Your contributions build on the investments of the Pennsylvania Game Commission and Hawk Mountain Sanctuary, ensuring continued success in this five-year statewide project.

Donate today and help continue the legacy of bird conservation that began with the First Atlas in 1983: https://www.hawkmountain.org/give/support-the-pa-bird-atlas
